RADNOR REVERSES FRIEND J. CAESAR

They Came; They Saw, and Were Conquered by L. M.
H. S. by Score 12-0.

FINE GAME; HUGE MOB

They came, they saw, but they conquered not. That briefly is the history of the invasion which Radnor High School conducted into Lower Merion's sacred precincts last Saturday.

The occasion was the annual Lower Merion-Radnor football classic, staged this year on the Maroon and White's field in Ardmore. Lower Merion won by two touchdowns. In explicit number of points the score was 12 to 0.

Over 10,000 people jammed the real estate which adjoins the High to witness this, the twenty-sixth annual clash between these traditional Main Line rivals. Every available seat was taken long before the game began and late arrivals had to resort to strategy to see any of the action on the field at all. So "on the ramparts they stood," on the power house also and, in fact, on every available bit of elevation that was within reasonable distance of the football field.

Great Game—Big Crowd.

It was a great crowd and the game that it saw was one that merited every bit of that turn-out. Transformed into a pack of fighting grizzly demons, as it always is transformed when it meets its traditional enemy, the eleven from Wayne gave Coach Adams' boys one of the toughest fights that it has had on its hands this year.

Four times in the first half the Maroon and White marched the ball down to Radnor's 10-yard line, but not once did it score. On each occasion the minions of Phil Sweeney rose to superb heights to take the ball on downs.

But it was the case of one good big eleven wearing down one good little eleven and Radnor was only postponing the inevitable. In the second half after taking a merciless drubbing at the hands of the big Lower Merion backs, Radnor's line gave and the ball quickly went from midfield down to Radnor's 12-yard line. Then it was that Lower Merion's board of strategy caught the enemy by surprise. Crossing the line, a forward pass was called and an accurate heave from Miller to Morris resulted in Lower Merion's first touchdown.

Another "Putsch."

Another "putsch" by Lower Merion for 40 yards in the last quarter resulted in Odiorne going over the invaders' last line for a second score.

It was the fourth consecutive year that the Ardmore eleven has sent Radnor away from the field of battle without allowing it once to cross its goal line. But this year it was only the timer's whistle that saved that record for Lower Merion.

Flashing an unexpected offensive in the last minutes of the final quarter Radnor took the cowhide 40 yards down the field to within one yard of Lower Merion's posts. It looked like a certain touchdown to the assembled multitude and the Radnor hosts, which had had little enough to cheer about in the early stages of the game, were in a frenzy of excitement.

Played for Time.

Coach Adams' men played for time, however. On the next play they held like stone and then before Radnor could attempt a fourth and final down, the whistle blew, ending the game with the ball one foot

DANCE TO TEAM

Will Be Given by Old Lower Merionites at Cynwyd Club.

A dance will be given by the victorious Lower Merion football team of 1925 at the Cynwyd Club on Friday, December 5, by the stars of yesteryears. Captain S. Eugene Kuen, Coach Albert C. Adam, the complete squad and many of the co-eds from all along the Main Line, college stars, officials and the faculty will attend.

The Club will be decorated with the colors of the school by the girls' committee. On the committee of arrangements are Spencer Stillwagon, of Ardmore; B. Franklin McGrady, of Bryn Mawr, and Barney Fischer, of Cynwyd.

Narberth Firemen Shaken Up When Engines Skidded Wednesday

With a number of the volunteers limping about with game legs, the Narberth Fire Company completed another active week yesterday.

The casualties occurred Wednesday evening when the company was called out to extinguish a burning automobile at the Montgomery Garage. The alarm was received at 7:40 P. M., and the combination truck, with James Gillespie at the wheel, was the first to leave the fire house.

Not realizing that a sudden drop in temperature had caused a thin coating of ice to form on the streets, the truck was driven around the corner of Forrest and Windsor avenues at high speed.

As it swung around, the heavy machine skidded and struck the curb with terrific force, violently shaking up the firemen. Chief Charles V. Noel, Taylor Henry and Sam Strauss were hurled from the engine and badly bruised about the legs and arms. Taylor Henry was thrown with such force that he bent the heavy brass guard rail before his grip loosened.

The engine, undamaged, continued on its way. It was followed a few moments later by the big pumping engine, driven by Deputy Chief Ed. Wipf. The driver of this truck, also, was unaware of the dangerous condition of the crossing and tried to make the turn at high speed.

The pumping engine, because of its great weight, swung with even more force than the first truck and hit the curb with a blow which wrecked one of the rear wheels.

Charles Young, John Miller, Lou Jenkins and Charles Girvin were thrown to the ground. Officer Girvin, in falling, was struck violently by Jenkins as the latter was catapulted from the truck. The blow was so heavy that he lost consciousness and had to be carried to the office of Dr. R. C. Hoffman, nearby. There it was found that he had a badly wrenched shoulder.

All of the men thrown from the machines required medical attention. Painful bruises were sustained by Noel and Young, the latter being temporarily crippled by a ruptured muscle in the thigh.

A number of autos, attempting to pass the corner when the accidents occurred, were unable to stop and slid down the hill past the intersection of Essex avenue.

The fire which was the cause of the accident resulted in the destruction of a Columbia sedan, the property of S. Robert Green, of Philadelphia. Damage was estimated at $300. The car flared up as it was being driven into the garage. It was pushed from the building as an attempt was made to put out the flames with a hand extinguisher. Failing in this, employees of the garage called the fire company.

DINNER-DANCE

of Tennis Club Was a Successful Affair.

About eighty persons attended the annual dinner-dance of the Narberth Tennis Association, held at Elm Hall last Friday night. W. D. R. Evans, Earnest Achterman and John B. Wine composed the committee which was in charge of arranging the dinner served by D. F. McAllister & Sons, caterers; music for the dancing was ably furnished by the Gilpin Orchestra, of Narberth. W. D. R. Evans, as toastmaster, presided, and speeches were made by Paul Gibbons and W. R. D. Hall.

Cups which had been offered to winners of various club events during the past season, went to Harold Lane, of Ardmore, and Robert Fretz, of Narberth. An interesting event of the evening was the presentation to Walter Cowin of a silver cigarette case as a token of the club's appreciation of his years of service and efforts in its behalf.

Members of the Tennis Association are now planning to have four more dances this winter, to be given at appropriate times during the season.

CARS CRASH

An accident which nearly had fatal consequences occurred at 5 P. M. Thanksgiving day at the intersection of Windsor and Essex avenues.

A car owned by Clarence J. O'Brien, 12 East Newfield Way, Cynwyd, and driven by his nephew, was going north on Essex avenue. It was struck a glancing blow by the large touring car of John B. Wine, Shirley Road, Narberth.

Witnesses declare that the O'Brien car, a sedan, was traveling at a high rate of speed. It was thrown against a bank, and turned completely over fully a hundred feet from the scene of the crash.

One of the occupants of the car suffered an injured arm, and the driver was treated for cuts at his home.

The drivers of both cars were held for a hearing before Magistrate Walzer in Narberth last night.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE

The annual Narberth Community Thanksgiving Service, held on Thursday morning in the new Lutheran Church, was largely attended. Music especially suitable for the occasion was furnished by the Lutheran Choir. Several pastors participated in the program and the sermon was delivered by the Rev. John Van Ness, of the theme, "Our National Doxology."

MINSTREL SHOW

Legion Will Hold Big Annual Affair Shortly.

At the November meeting of the Harold D. Speakman Post, No. 356, American Legion, it was decided to resume the old-time minstrel, which for several years proved so popular with Narberth audiences. However, this year's show will be staged under the personal direction of that well-known minstrel favorite, Will Lawrence, formerly of Dumont's Minstrels and Murphy's Steel Pier Minstrels.

The show will be composed of many well-known singers, dancers and comedians, the entire piece being orchestrated by McGowan's Music Masters' Orchestra.

The arrangement committee have tentative dates fixed for the big galaxy of entertainers, and will announce the date of this big show in an early issue. Advance ticket sale will begin early in January.

The foregoing arrangements are somewhat of a radical departure from the previous Legion Minstrel shows, in that professional talent has been enjoyed on an elaborate scale instead of developing the show from local talent, thus giving to our community a big entertainment treat right here in Narberth and at popular prices. Watch for further announcements!

TRIO CONCERT

The French-Cook-Vogel Trio, composed of Rosetta Samuel French, pianist; Frederic Cook, violinist, and Adolph Vogel, cellist, will offer a very interesting program at the concert to be given on Friday evening, December 4, at the Woman's Club Building, Ardmore avenue, Ardmore, Pa. They will play works by Parker, Dvorak, Beethoven and Schuman. This concert is given under the auspices of the Main Line School of Music, No. 107 Ardmore avenue. Tickets may be had upon application to the school.

NOTICE

To Members of the Narberth Fathers' Association.

Please mark the calendar on December 2 for the annual meeting at 7.30, to be held at Scout headquarters, Essex and Elmwood avenues, for the purpose of electing officers and the Troop Committee for the ensuing year. This is an important job. Please try and arrange to be present.

ALUMNI DANCE

The annual dance of the Lower Merion High School Alumni will occur tomorrow evening in the Junior High School auditorium. The "College Serenaders" will furnish the music.

ORCHESTRA GIVES VARIED PROGRAM

Main Line Musicians Please in First Concert of Season.

MRS. FRENCH SOLOIST

With a performance showing a marked improvement over its former excellent work, the Main Line Orchestra opened its third season at the Ardmore Theatre Sunday afternoon.

Forty-eight amateur musicians, residents of the Main Line, Bala-Cynwyd and nearby points, rendered a varied and pleasing program under the baton of Adolph Vogel.

Rosetta Samuel French, pianist, was soloist, and played both with orchestra accompaniment and alone. Mrs. French, a resident of Cynwyd, is a member of the faculty of the Main Line School of Music and is a holder of a number of awards for musical proficiency.

The program, built up largely of lighter music suited to the capacity of the orchestra, included as well the Andante from the Fifth Symphony of Beethoven. That ambitious number was performed in fine fashion, with a unity of brass, string and woodwind rarely found in an amateur orchestra.

Played With Virility.

Mrs. French chose as her first number the G Minor piano concerto of Saint-Saens, which she played with virility and keen musical sense. The orchestra gave excellent accompaniment throughout, forming a pleasing background to the sturdy cords and dashing runs of the concerto.

The concert opened with "Iphigenia in Aulis" by Gluck, a light and pleasing composition. Following it were played "Dreams" by Wagner, "Minuet and Barcarolle" by Offenbach, and the Andante Sostenuto from Luigini's "Egyptian Suite."

"Dreams," as the name implies, is a quiet, smooth-running composition, the entire effect of which depends upon the balance and clear-cut unity on the part of the orchestra. It was read in a most pleasing manner. The ever-popular Barcarolle from the Tales of Hoffmann drew much applause.

Mr. Vogel chose as his concluding number "Dance of the Archers" by Borodin. Spirited, technical, picturesque, it was played brilliantly.

Three Short Pieces.

Mrs. French's second appearance was unaccompanied. She rendered a group of three short pieces: "Shepherd's Hey" and "Irish Tune from County Derry" by Grainger and the Scholz-Eber arrangement of Strauss' Blue Danube Waltz.

The first of these, a simple shepherd's dance, is highly embroidered at times with difficult technical work. The second is the product of the popular "Farewell to Cuccullain" and Percy Grainger.

NEW OFFICE FOR WATER COMPANY

Planned at Bryn Mawr.

The Philadelphia Suburban Water Company, formerly the Springfield Consolidated, are having plans made for the erection of a large office building on its present Bryn Mawr property. It is the intention of joining the present office and the superintendent's dwelling with an intermediate building and make the three buildings one large two-story office building. Mr. A. L. Burleigh, the present superintendent, will vacate the house he occupies in about 30 days. Mr. Burleigh succeeded the late Enos N. Hart.

Miss Sarah Fulton, who has been connected with the Bryn Mawr office for 22 years, has been temporarily transferred to the Philadelphia office.

REALTY MEN ELECT

Main Line men were elected as officials of the Philadelphia Real Estate Board at the annual meeting of that body last week. Robert J. Nash, of Narberth, was made first vice president, and Isaac Kershaw, of Cynwyd, was again selected as a member of the board of 30 directors. Mr. Nash was secretary of the board the past year.

PATIENT SETS RECORD

What probably is the shortest full name ever inscribed on the records of the Montgomery Hospital, at Norristown, was written last week, when Ols Ne, of Narberth, was admitted for treatment of injuries received in an accident.

COMMUNITY CLUB TO HOLD BUSINESS MEETING

Many Canvassers Out on Red Cross Drive.

The Woman's Community Club is to vary its procedure somewhat at its meeting in the Y. M. C. A., December 1. Instead of the usual brief business session followed by a program and tea, the greater part of the afternoon will be devoted to important business in which every member is interested. At 1 P. M. the hostess, Mrs. Louise Sheneman, will serve coffee and cake (without charge) to supplement the "box luncheon," which members are to bring for themselves. The discussion of business will begin at 2 P. M. Afterwards there will be a half hour of music. Mrs. A. B. Ross, the music chairman, has promised a bass soloist and a violinist.

Keep in mind the luncheon and card party, which the Hospitality Committee is organizing for December 8, at 1 P. M. Get your tickets (50 cents) early from Mrs. A. Y. Reinking, or one of her committee. Invite your friends to come, too, for this is not restricted to "members only."

The club has undertaken to sell the tickets for the firemen's concert next month. Mrs. L. C. Douglass is organizing a group of saleswomen whom you will not easily escape.

The canvassers for the Red Cross membership campaign are still busily at work, but hope to have a complete report for next week's issue of Our Town. Mrs. H. C. Fenno, chairman, is ably assisted by the following committee:

Mrs. R. M. Staley, No. 223 Essex avenue; Miss Catherine Irwin, No. 75 Wynnedale road; Mrs. Lester Collier, Lakeview apartments; Mrs. Jesse Harris, No. 135 Merion avenue; Mrs. Arthur Burns, No. 108 Woodside avenue; Mrs. Wallis Boileau, Jr., No. 210 Wayne avenue; Mrs. George N. Gill, No. 216 Dudley avenue; Miss Jeanette Gillis, No. 246 Dudley avenue; Mrs. Thomas, the Windsor-Exsex; Miss Virginia Douglass, No. 213 Elm Terrace; Misses Elizabeth and Louise England, No. 224 Sabine avenue; Miss Dorothy Speck, No. 21 Woodbine avenue; Miss Margaret Livingston, No. 108 Chestnut avenue; Miss Mary Chalfant, No. 128 Chestnut avenue; Miss Margaret Eyre, No. 123 Woodside avenue; Miss Virginia Eyre, No. 209 Merion avenue; Miss Lillian Compton, No. 500 Woodside avenue; Miss Emma Mueller, Forest avenue; Mrs. H. B. Murray, No. 432 Dudley avenue; Miss Honora Snyder, Narberth avenue; Miss Emma Lentz, No. 8 Wynnwood court; Mrs. John Nash, Narberth avenue; Mrs. Arthur Cook, No. 207 Lantwyn lane, Mrs. Ralph Dunne, No. 9 Shirley road; Miss Elinor Michaelson, No. 503 Haverford avenue; Mrs. J. J. Findeison, No. 21 Shirley road; Mrs. William Ballingall, No. 511 Haverford avenue; Mrs. J. G. Schmidheiser, No. 319 Grayling avenue; Miss M. Carson, No. 216 Narberth avenue, and Mrs. Paul M. Field, Parkview apartments.

NEIGHBORS DINE

Over four hundred men from our neighboring town of Bala-Cynwyd, with a few guests from other parts of the Main Line, held their eighteenth annual banquet at Green Hill Farms Tuesday night.

Judge Harold B. Wells and Sir Frederick McGill were the speakers. Thirty-five prizes, ranging from a $30 saving account, a ton of coal, and an electric cooker down to smaller items, were given the banqueters.

One of the features was a miniature edition of the "News" of Bala-Cynwyd used as a menu.

The Neighborhood Club, with 650 active members, is one of the strongest civic associations in the East. All of the members are men.

FIRE COMPANY TO GAIN BY CONCERT

Five Artists on Program of Affair in Narberth on December 8.

UNDER WOMEN'S CLUB

A concert—the quality of which will make it worthy of any metropolitan stage—will be given here in Narberth on Tuesday evening, December 8, at Borough Hall, for the benefit of the Narberth Fire Company, than which there is no more important and deserving organization in our borough.

Artists of reputation have generously volunteered their services, and the Woman's Community Club, with equal generosity, has taken charge of the management of the affairs and sale of tickets.

The residents of Narberth are asked to buy tickets, generously, and we believe they will.

There are two reasons why you will get much more than your "money's worth" from this concert. In the first place, the program itself will be a treat—as fine as anything you would hear in the city and a lot better than many city programs. In the second place, every penny—every dollar—that you contribute to the Narberth Fire Company comes back to you with compound interest in the form of lower insurance rates and, that which is more important than any "rates"—protection for those "things in life" the loss of which all the money in the world could not replace nor bring back. Make no mistake about it, this is not extravagant language, nor do we exaggerate the importance of the fire company one iota. Not a week passes—frequently not a day—but the men and apparatus who comprise the fire company save some resident of our borough thousands of dollars, to say nothing of the lives that would be put in jeopardy by the fires that occur, if they were not quickly extinguished by the firemen.

Now something about the concert on Tuesday evening, December 8. The artists will be Alexander Zenker, one of the first violinists of the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra; Rosetta Samuel French, the accomplished pianist; Adolph Vogel, until a short time ago one of the leading cellists with the Philadelphia Orchestra; Lula Roth, a talented and pleasing lyric soprano, and Evelyn N. Patten, whose popularity as a reader is growing rapidly.

Mr. Zenker, who has been with the Philadelphia Orchestra for several years, and has appeared as a soloist on the concert stage in many cities through the East, recently became a resident of Narberth. He studied under the celebrated Leopold Auer, and is a very fine musician.

Mrs. French, who is a resident of Cynwyd, is now one of the faculty of the Main Line School of Music at Ardmore. She studied in Berlin with Stepanoff from 1911 to 1914, later returning to Boston, where she was a pupil of Gebhard for two years.

Mr. Vogel needs no introduction in Narberth or anywhere along the Main Line, or in Philadelphia, for that matter. After four years with the Philadelphia Orchestra he resigned to become director of music at the University of Pennsylvania. He has been director of the Main Line Orchestra since its organization. He is also widely known as a soloist. He, too, is a resident of Narberth.

Miss Roth is a former pupil of Wilbur Green, of New York, and Antonio O. Scarduzio, of Philadelphia, and was coached by the late John Curtis, Jr.

Miss Patten, also of Narberth, studied at the Virginia Intermont College, Bristol, Va., under Rhoda L. Nunnally, formerly of the Boston School of Expression, and is now studying at the Sayward School of Overbrook under Rebecca Slaymaker, who was also formerly connected with the well-known Boston institution. Miss Patten's reputation as a reader has been greatly enhanced by her fine interpretations of the Alfred Noyes' poems.

The full program of the concert will be printed in "Our Town" next week.

ger's genius. Mrs. French delighted her audience with the sympathy and breadth she developed from the number.

The time-honored "Blue Danube," bedecked in fine clothing, was her final offering. Generous applause testified to the audience's appreciation.

Unusual Body.

The entire program was an unquestioned tribute to the success of this body of musicians. The far-seeing plans of Charles S. Powell, backed by his financial aid and the untiring efforts of an enthusiastic board of directors, have been developed through the genius of conductor Vogel into an unusual musical body of which the Main Line may well be proud.

With this auspicious opening of a new season, lovers of good music are enthusiastic in their predictions of future high accomplishment for the Main Line Orchestra in the world of amateur music.

SUBURBAN TITLE FOR LOWER MERION HIGH TEAM

Lower Merion won the Suburban High School cross-country championship Tuesday afternoon.

Besides winning the team prize with 17 points, Lower Merion also produced the individual star in Thomas Ottey, who was first to cross the finish line.

Smith, a teammate who finished second, was several hundred yards behind him. Then came Miller, another Lower Merion runner, with Carter, the first man from another school to finish, in fourth place. He ran for Chester.

DINNER FOR TEAM

The Ardmore Chamber of Commerce will give a victory dinner next Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. to the Lower Merion High School football team. As only a limited number can be accommodated tickets, costing $1.50, should be obtained at once, as none will be sold after tomorrow. Checks should be mailed to P. O. Box 421, Ardmore, and tickets will be sent in return.

BIG ATHLETIC LIGHTS ATTEND K. OF C. BANQUET

Celebrate Baseball Championship With Dinner.

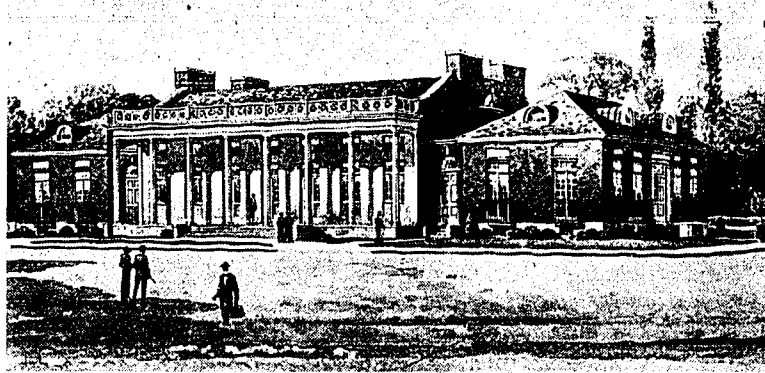

The Bishop Kenrick Council, K. of C., of Ardmore, are not satisfied alone in working for Columbianism. They are also imbued with the spirit, "Boost Ardmore."

This year they brought to Ardmore the championship of the K. of C. Baseball League and the event was celebrated by a banquet on Tuesday evening. Two hundred and fifty members and guests enjoyed the affair, and Joseph Markey, the lecturer of the Council is wearing a broad smile. It was a huge success.

The Rev. Raymond O'Donnell, assistant pastor at St. Colman's; the Rev. Joseph E. Hyson, assistant pastor at Bryn Mawr; Harry Stuhldreher, football coach at Villanova, and his assistant, F. Huntzinger; James Dykes, Connie's wonderful baseman and Preston's pride and B. J. Martin were speakers.

The Shanahan Quartette furnished vocal music. Thomas Hill, vice president K. of C. A. A. L., presented the cup amidst much chering for Ardmore's boys.

Proposed Woman's Club House

This is the architect's drawing of the proposed Memorial Library and Woman's Club House of Bala-Cynwyd which will be located at Levering Mill Road and Bala Avenue. A drive for a $60,000 building fund was concluded this week by the Bala-Cynwyd Club.

Election of Stewart as Captain Announced at Gridiron Banquet

Wendell Brennamen Stewart one of the guards of the Lower Merion football team, has been elected 1926 captain of that aggregation. He was elected Tuesday night by the letter men of the team before the annual football dinner in the high school at Ardmore.

The choice for leader lay between Stewart and the younger Brother Miller. As Stewart will be a senior next year and was the older man, the choice went to him. He has been a member of the football team for the past two years and this season broke into the line-up as one of the regulars at the right guard position. He lives in Cynwyd.

The Lower Merion High School football team and their friends dined on Tuesday evening in the Senior High School building.

The dinner was prepared by the girls of the domestic science department, under the direction of Miss Pretz.

During the repast Lower Merion songs were sung by the boys and at intervals lusty cheers were given for the members of the school board, the faculty and members of the team.

Principal C. B. Pennypacker acted as toastmaster. He called on Mr. William J. Byrnes, secretary of the school board, who thanked the fathers of the boys for their presence and asked their continued support. He told how the high school was endeavoring to turn out boys and girls who would be citizens, physically, mentally and morally fit.

The toastmaster then suggested a rising vote of thanks to William T. McIntyre for his donations of 12 large beribboned footballs filled with candy and 65 two-pound boxes of candy for the girls of the high school. Owing to Mr. Fred Patten and his assistant, Mr. Collier, having another engagement, it was impossible to have the band present, a fact which the toastmaster regretted.

Mr. Joseph J. Derham, the donor of the Derham Cup to be contested for by Lower Merion the winner of three games out of five to be the owner, then told how glad he was that Lower Merion had won the first leg of the cup and as he sat down Mr. Pennypacker remarked "we will win it in three years." The cheer leader then became busy again.

Mr. S. Eugene Kuen, father of Captain Eugene Kuen, spoke on behalf of the fathers. Mr. Joseph H. Morris, father of Howard Morris, the youngster who caught that forward pass from Millar that produced the first touchdown, also spoke. Mr. Morris stated he was proud his boy had helped to win and congratulated the team.

Dr. F. K. P. Barker was to be the next speaker, but had occasion to leave before called on. His substitute and fellow-member on the Alumni Advisory Board, Ned Bartlett, told how glad he was on Saturday, as an alumnus of 20 years and a former L. M. H. football player, to see the Maroon and White float triumphantly.

James E. Dougherty was introduced as representing the press. He urged the boys not to forget they were Lower Merion boys and in life's battle always act to bring honor to their high school.

As the speaker resumed his seat, Mr. Pennypacker paid a tribute to the local papers for the aid they always extended and also to the Philadelphia papers, whose representative was E. E. Burlingame, treasurer of the school board. He told how some papers did the work and others did not, but all in all thought Lower Merion's team fared well this year for publicity.

Mr. Harry C. Bare, vice president of the Ardmore Chamber of Commerce, was then introduced and expressed the hope that all the boys could be present at the victory dinner to be given the team on December 1 in the Y. M. C. A.

Captain Kuen was then called on. He would have the members of team and friends understand it was teamwork that brought victory to Lower Merion's banner. He made the announcement that Wendell Stewart, at a meeting held prior to the dinner, had been elected captain of the 1926 football team.

Coach Adams, then introduced was as practical in his suggestion to the retiring members of the football team as he had been in teaching the game. "Boys, try to find out your vocation, then select a college that will enable you to win out. Pay no attention to offers to play on a college football team. Try and be a well equipped man in your profession or business."

Dr. Martin was another speaker. He told the boys not to worry about getting good material to fill the places of the retiring members; there would always be good additions. He himself offered his seven-and-a-half months' old baby for the 1940 team; he could vouch for him being "a good kicker."

It remained for Mr. S. E. Downs, superintendent of schools to make the audience feel proud when he related the enviable history of L. M. H. S. football team for the last four years. "Not alone in football, however, do we excel in athletics," said Mr. Downs, "but in other sports as well. Only today our cross-country run team, under the little white-haired T. Ottey, won the suburban championship."

After several members of the team had been called on, the most successful dinner ever given to a Lower Merion football team became a matter of history.

Besides those already mentioned, the following were present: Thomas Yocum, member of school board; Charles S. Powell, I. Howard Mecke, William C. Hower, William Kamerdz, Warren Fou'ke, Marvin Reynolds and Joseph Mandes.

It Takes More Than Wages to Keep a Good Laundress

You will find that the best "help" can be obtained only in homes which enjoy such modern conveniences as automatic gas hot water service.

To keep the laundress satisfied with her work and to obtain her best service, you should install an Automatic Storage Gas Water Heater.

The laundress will be relieved of the work of attending to a coal fire and will be assured of an abundance of piping hot water which will make her work easier and pleasanter.

See this great modern device demonstrated at the gas office, or 'phone for a representative today.

RADNOR HIGH REVERSES FRIEND JULIUS CAESAR

from Lower Merion's goal. It was a brilliant finish to a great game.

In analyzing the game, it must be admitted that the lines of both teams were weak. Time and again did the backs on both sides tear through for long gains. Lower Merion's better team work, heavier eleven and dashing backfield finally swung the balance and victory to its colors. To single out any one player and mention him for special credit for his part in the offensive against Radnor may seem an injustice for every man on the Maroon and White eleven played as one possessed. Yet even in this group of earnest fighters, the line plunging of Tubby Fort, at full-back, the forward passing of Marom Miller and the helpful work of Eg Morris and Kohlas, stood out.

Record Crowd.

A tremendous crowd of fully 200 spectators crowded into the confines of the Ardmore field and probably a thousand more viewed the game from advantageous positions nearby. Radnor had erected a four-row grandstand that accommodated the cheering students, and which had sections at the ends for other spectators and that stretched from one end of the field to the other. Lower Merion's stand was considerably larger and, needless to say, every seat in both was taken.

Every available inch of standing room around the field was occupied and nearby roofs held their quota of cheering humanity. Old grads vied with lower classmen in rooting for their favorites and the cheering was incessant throughout. The crowd urged the boys on with pleadings, with threats, prayers and exhortations, and advice was constantly given to ears that couldn't possibly hear over the tumult.

When Lower Merion scored her first touchdown the Ardmore stands went wild. Staid business men slapped each other on the backs, hats were thrown in wild confusion and undergraduates shouted themselves hoarse.

No Chance to Break Loose.

The Radnor crowd was not given an opportunity to break loose over any touchdown, but the brilliant stands of the Radnor eleven and the last-minute offensive that nearly scored kept the Red and White supporters in a frenzy of enthusiasm. Lower Merion cops were distributed around the field at strategic places ready to quell incipient disorders and to keep the crowd in check. But for the most part it was an orderly crowd that confined its activities to rooting for Lower Merion or Radnor, as the case might be. Two bands added music to the occasion. As usual, the Bryn Mawr Band led the Radnor songs, while Lower Merion's school band held forth on the Ardmore side.

The field was in good shape, little wind was blowing and it was a fair test for both teams and, although we hate to tell the truth, the better team won.

L. M. Powerful.

As the play progressed it was very evident to the most rabid partisan that Radnor was in for a tough afternoon. The Lower Merion team was a powerful, well-balanced eleven that overshadowed Radnor. They were big, fully 15 pounds to the man heavier; they were an experienced team, possessing sound football knowledge; they had the prestige of a successful row of victories stretching over a number of years and they had two powerful threats in M. Miller and Fort.

Against this combination Radnor did well to hold its score as low as it was. Lentz, the best kicker on the squad, was forced out early in the first quarter with a wrenched leg. Captain Nelson also had to be assisted from the game in the first period with an injured knee. Hill, the most powerful player on the Radnor line, had to be taken out in the second period, but got back into the game later one. Harkins, the player who took up the kicking for Radnor when Lentz was forced out, was banished from the game with Captain Kuen, of Lower Merion, when the two staged an impromptu fight under the watchful eye of Umpire Hopkins. Both sides suffered about equally as the result of this, but Radnor lost her last dependable punter.

It is a well-known truth in football that to gain any ground the first necessity is to have possession of the ball, and for a full three-quarters of the game Lower Merion had the ball. The Ardmore team would rush the oval down to Radnor's 10-yard line and then the Red and White would take it from them. A

PETITION BOARD FOR NEW BRIDGE

Bala-Cynwyd Club Complains to the Public Service Commission.

GIVES CENSUS OF CARS

Petition requesting, if possible, a new bridge for Montgomery pike over the Pennsylvania Railroad at Cynwyd and failing that at least the adequate reinforcement of the present one, was presented before the Public Service Commission in Philadelphia Tuesday by George H. Wilson, solicitor of the Bala-Cynwyd Neighborhood Club. This action was authorized by the club at a recent meeting when it was declared that the present structure was dangerous, inadequate to traffic demands and an eyesore.

In requesting that an order be made on the Pennsylvania Railroad for an improvement Counselor Wilson gave the results of a census of traffic on the bridge taken on the bridge by the Neighborhood Club in September. These, it was declared, showed that traffic had increased far beyond the original capacity the bridge was intended to bear.

37,000 a Week Use It.

The census figures published in these columns some weeks ago showed that an average of 37,000 motor vehicles a week used the bridge. Of this number 374 were trucks over 10 tons, the maximum capacity which warning signs at the bridge declare that the span can hold.

Residents of Bala-Cynwyd and Lower Merion testified in support of the petition. One of them, Martin L. Andes, cashier of the Bala-Cynwyd National Bank and a member of the Neighborhood Club, declared on the witness stand that when the railroad company was asked to reinforce the bridge it responded by laying some new floor boards which did not materially strengthen the structure.

Decision Reserved.

Decision on the complaint was reserved by the commission until it had taken opportunity to investigate. Wednesday one of the first steps in this investigation was taken when a letter was received informing the Lower Merion Commissioners of the complaint. The communication was referred to the Township Highway Committee, which will investigate and then make a report to the Public Service Committee of its findings and recommendations.

The Neighborhood Club has been working for a new bridge for the Montgomery pike at the Cynwyd station crossing for over a year. Repeated conferences were held with railroad officials, but these resulted only in minor repairs which were deemed negligible and unsatisfactory. Refused by the railroad in its direct dealings with its officials the club decided to appeal to the Public Service Commission.

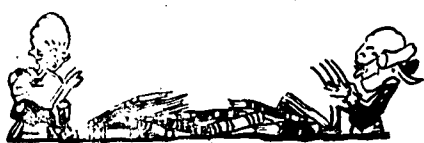

CHRISTMAS MAIL RUSH ON

The Christmas rush at the post office has begun. Increased volume in the number of packages being mailed to distant foreign countries has already been noted. Presents contained in boxes and wrappers of holiday hue have started on the long journey to China, Japan, New Zealand, Australia and points in Africa, so that they will arrive in time to be opened for Christmas.

Mrs. William Nicholson returned on Wednesday from a trip to the South.

few plays and Radnor would be forced to kick. As a result Lower Merion could start all over again from Radnor's 35 or 40-yard line and repeat the procedure. It was only a question of time before something had to give, and in the second half the machine from Ardmore refused to be stopped.

Lower Merion's line was superior to Radnor's and that's the story in a nutshell. No team can get going when its opponents crush them before they can get started, and with the exception of that last-minute drive that's what happened to Radnor. The heavy Lower Merion line opened up holes for the backs to go through and that's why the Lower Merion offensive looked so good. Miller and Fort were both good line plungers and Miller was very good around the ends, but the opportunities were given them to get started that were not accorded the Radnor backs. McMonigle made several dashes of 10 and 15 yards that were individually good, but as a consistent action the Radnor offense failed to function.

BOOK LIST

Additions to the Library in November 1925.

One of the most notable books issued this fall is Lord Grey's Memoirs, published under the title "Twenty-five Years." Lord Grey is one of England's foremost statesmen and former Minister of Foreign Affairs, who figured prominently in the early days of the world war. No one is better qualified to discuss international affairs than Lord Grey. And this book, which is in two volumes, has now been placed in the Narberth Community Library as part of the November purchase. The following is the complete list for November:

Non-fiction—
 "Busy Woman's Cook Book," Mabel Claire, reviewed last week.
 "Life and Letters of Walter Page," Burton J. Hendrick. The third volume of letters of the wartime Ambassador to Great Britain.
 "Man Nobody Knows," Bruce Barton. A rediscovery of Jesus.
 "Twenty-five Years," Lord Grey's Memoirs.
Fiction—
 "Ariel Custer," Grace L. Hill. Comes to the city to seek fortune and finds love.
 "Barry Locke—Half-Back," j. Barbour. A good boys' story.
 "Booth and the Spirit of Lincoln," Bernie Babcock. About Lincoln's assassin and assassination.
 "Chi-wee," Grace Moon. The life of a little Indian maiden.
 "Cold Harbour," Francis Young. A perfect mystery story.
 "Coombe St. Mary's," Maud Diver. An English lady's fight against financial ruin, and loss of her stately mansion, "Coombe St. Mary's."
 "Cousin Jane," Harry Leon Wilson. The story of a Western Cinderella.
 "Emily Climbs," L. M. Montgomery. A girl's choice between love and a career in New York.
 "Ernestine So-hie," Sophia Cleugh. An English girl in a mythical kingdom of the continent.
 "The Eternal Circle," Jay William Hudson. Dramatic novel of the loves of four widely different people.
 "Fortitude," Hugh Walpole. One of his older books.
 "Franklin W. Kane," Anne Douglas Sedgewick. A gentle brave character is Franklin, one you feel that you know.
 "Gas Drive In," E. J. Rath. A comedy romance.
 "Gertrude Haviland's Divorce," Iteez H. Irwin. A discarded wife and good mother forced to face life alone.
 "Hunter's Moon," Ernest Poole. The life of a small boy and his grandfather—a scholarly tramp.
 "John Macnab," John Buchan. Outdoor life, adventure, humor and love.
 "Iolene," Harriett T. Comstock. Married—too late she finds the man she really loves.
 "The Naked Man," Vere Hutchinson. Of the love of a man for his land, his little son and two women.
 "Portrait of a Man with Red Hair," Hugh Walpole. With an American of New England ancestry as his principal character, Hugh Walpole writes his most venturesome and thrilling romance.
 "Possession," Louis Bromfield. The story of the success of a girl who made her own way in the world and finds herself a little lonely upon the pinnacle she herself has built.
 "Power and the Glory," Gilbert Parker. A tale of one of the most thrilling periods in our history—the days of exploration and discovery.
 "Orestes," Katherine Burt. Spiritual unrest of the younger generation.
 "Same in the Suburbs," P. G. Wodehouse. About an ex-sailor who blunders magnificently.
 "Suspense," Joseph Conrad. An unfinished work, yet not incomplete.
 "We Must March," Honor Willson Morrow. The winning of Oregon and Narcissa Whitman, the first white woman to cross the Rockies.
 "Wild Geese," Martha Ostenso. Life of a family on the northwestern frontier and of the impetuous daughter who rebels against the life.

NARBERTH JUNIOR HIGH NEWS

Thursday afternoon on our own field the Narberth hockey team defeated Gordon-Roney School, with a score 3-0. Eleanor Michaelson, the captain, played a thrilling game, having shot all of the three goals. Wednesday, the 25th, the hockey team played Springfield at their field.

Last Saturday afternoon the soccer team played Girard College. Red and Gray lost with a score of 5-2.

Last Friday, the 20th, Assembly was taken over by the Travel Club, conducted by Miss Margaret Eckbert and the Dancing Club, under the direction of Miss Church. Talks and slides on the British Isles were given by Carrie Louise Douglass, Salvatore Spinelli and Annette Watson. Miss Hover, the fifth grade teacher, gave an interesting description of her trip to England. This was followed by a Scotch song, "It's Nice to Get Up in the Morning," by Carrie Louise Douglass, impersonating Harry Lauder. Last on the program were three dances, a Swedish dance and a Scottish dance followed by a tango by Julia Fittipoldi and Eleanor Templeman.

The Senior Dramatic Club had charge of the assembly on Wednesday and presented a play entitled "Lantern Light," in which the following people acted:

Granny Lee, Katherine Smith; Governor Cole, Malcolm Forsyth; Sir Richard Walton, Robert Vallette; Firefly, Eleanor Michaelson; Rev. Phillips, Eugene Lane; June Morris, Marion Henry; Mistress Morris, Dorothy Clevenger; Mary Day, Kathleen Newborg; Jean, Sara Burgess; Paul, Vestus Spindler; Edward, Llewellyn Brooks; Deputy Governor, Arthur Bailey; Assistant, Henry Brooks.

The Senior Dramatic Club is to be congratulated on its splendid success of the play.

After the play the ninth grade Latin classes sang an appropriate song.

The second of a series of mothers' meetings will be held in the school auditorium on Wednesday, December 2, at 3.30 o'clock.

The topics for discussion are school reports and school clubs. Preceding the meeting the ninth grade sewing class will exhibit some of their work. All mothers who are interested are invited to attend.

The Thanksgiving vacation is being enjoyed immensely by the pupils and we hope by the faculty. Editors for this week—Helen Butler and Dorothy Clevenger.

THE FIRESIDE

Dr. Harry Hartley has moved his dental offices to 112 North Narberth avenue, in conjunction with C. T. Faries, M. D., and C. W. White, M. D.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Toole are occupying their new home at 3323 Ainslee street, Queen Lane Manor, Philadelphia. Mrs. Toole will be remembered as Miss Ilma C. Scott, of Woodside avenue.

Mr. Dando's store will be the scene, on December 5, of the annual home-bake given by the Westminster Circle of the Narberth Presbyterian Church.

A covered-dish dinner, followed by cards, was served at the home of Mrs. D. Warren Wright last Saturday evening. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wilde, Mr. and Mrs. James Laughlin, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse S. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Kern W. McHose and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Narrigan.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Boryer and daughter, Shirley, are spending the holidays in Washington.

Mrs. William Livingston and Mrs. J. S. Harris motored yesterday to East Orange and Maplewood, N. J., for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Donnelly and children are spending the Thanksgiving holidays in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Aiken and son Billie motored Wednesday to Cadarville, Ohio. Mrs. Aiken's old home, to attend the Thanksgiving dinner of her mother there. Mr. Aiken, to combine business with pleasure, is spending a few days at the S. A. Weller Pottery Plant, Zanesville, Ohio, by whom he is employed.

CONCERT TO BENEFIT NARBERTH FIRE COMPANY

In the meantime all residents of Narberth are urged to get their tickets without delay. The Woman's Community Club, which is sponsoring the concert, has appointed a committee to take charge of the affair. Mrs. Leroy C. Douglass is chairman of this committee, and tickets, which are $1 each, may be procured from her or from any of the following members of her committee: Mrs. C. H. Shaw, Mrs. J. H. Speck, Mrs. N. C. Rowley, Mrs. J. A. Hongler, Mrs. H. I. McConnell, Mrs. Robert J. Nash, Mrs. J. F. Sherron, Mrs. A. Y. Reinking, Mrs. P. A. Wales, Mrs. Charles Carson, Mrs. R. D. McDuffin and Mrs. Robert J. Dothard.

If you like good music, rendered by fine musicians; if you appreciate the low insurance rates you get here in Narberth; if you are grateful for the protection your property receives and the protection you have on your own life and the lives of your family, make it a point to see some of the women of this committee and buy two, three, four, five or as many tickets for the concert as you feel you can afford.

The active members of the Narberth Fire Company give their time without pay and risk their lives every time the fire siren blows. Compared with such service buying a couple of tickets for the December 8 concert, is after all, a small matter, isn't it? But it is a part that each one of us can play, and every ticket purchased will help and be genuinely appreciated.

MANY FIRES

By the time the company detoured about the various closed streets in the vicinity the car was but a memory.

The damaged engine was hauled to the firehouse by Charles H. Smith with his wrecking car. The machine was so heavy that the tackle of the wrecker was broken several times in the course of the job.

The call Wednesday night was one of a number which have kept the company on the jump during the past two weeks. Last week the firemen were called out to extinguish a blaze at the home of A. R. Kneibler, Elmwood avenue, on Wednesday. On Thursday a small blaze on the roof of the home of A. B. Eyre, Woodside avenue, called them out, and on the same day they hurried to 303 Woodbine avenue to put out a mattress which a careless smoker had lighted in the home of Dominick Scott-setto.

Three grass fires occupied the attention of the company last Sunday. One of these was at Bryn Mawr avenue and Gulph Road, another at Avon Road near the railroad, and a third at Woodbine and Bryn Mawr avenues.

They were also called to Ardmore to cover that territory while the Ardmore company was out on another alarm at 3 A. M. last Friday.

BABB WINS FIRST TWO

At the American Public Billiard Room, Thursday, November 19th, George Babb defeated J. Robert Cromie by a score of 100 to 89. Again on Monday, the 23d, he won by 100 to 69. This week, Cromie claims he will stage a come-back, and not allow Babb to take a third game from him.
